

WORKSITE EVALUATION (WE)

What is it?

A functional evaluation carried out at the worksite to determine the extent of the client's ability to safely do their job. The evaluation also encompasses potential alternative job roles or tasks. This is designed to determine the client's current functional and cognitive capacity for work and any limitations they may experience in work, to inform a rehabilitation programme.

Who is it for?

The evaluation is delivered by an experienced Occupational Therapist using a combination of the workplace and Matheson system is usually part of an ongoing vocational rehabilitation programme.

What does the service offer?

- A bespoke objective functional evaluation conducted in the workplace to help understand the client's physical and cognitive capability to do their job
- An assessment of any limiting factors the client may be experiencing in the workplace
- A concise report detailing impact of current functional ability for work
- Vocational Rehabilitation recommendations to achieve optimum functional level and inform a return to work plan

Access to the service

To arrange a WE you can instruct us online by visiting www.proclaim-care.co.uk then click the 'appoint us' icon. Alternatively, call us on 01698 207755 to discuss your specific requirements.